

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An image processing apparatus that generates 5 image data from which it can be determined from the processed image what kind of processing has been performed on the image, and that enables bulge correction of the image and transformation of the image to be carried out with ease.

10